

HHPL 152: Meth&Mat Hlth Ed

This course is designed to prepare students to teach age-appropriate lessons on health topics to students in grades K-12. Specifically, the national health education standards, the health education curriculum and the different teaching methodologies and materials used in health education in the major content areas will be discussed and analyzed. Additional emphasis will be placed on performance indicators, learning assessment and evaluation.

Credits: 3

Program:

Health, Human Perform. & Leisure Studies

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS