

FINA 322: Financial Markets & Inst.

An analysis of financial markets and their impact on the creation, operation, and public regulation of financial institutions. Provide a rigorous analysis of financial markets and institutions serving the various sectors of the U.S. economy. It also deals with the Federal Reserve System, its monetary policy and regulatory controls over the various financial institutions. It is a Finance elective course, intended for senior finance majors in the Department of Finance.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites/Permissions:

FINA 311, FINA 312 (C), B-School Major/Minor

Program:

Finance

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS