

INBU 365: Intl Human Resources Mgmt

Discuss the fundamentals of human resource management in competitive global environments and diverse national economies. Major topics include globalization, competitiveness and the management of human resources, the impact of organizational strategies and international production on the workplace, globalization and organization of labor force, globalization and human resource development, globalization and cultural change in organizations, labor union responses to globalization, and globalization and regulatory issues related to employment and the workplace.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites/Permissions:

INBU 300 (C), B-School Major/Minor

Program:

International Business