

SLMC 351: Advanced Public Speaking

Public speaking has become an important force for molding and shaping society. In an increasingly complex world, the need for articulate public speakers, that is, those who can present appropriate, relevant, and clear ideas to listeners in a direct, open, and convincing manner has become even greater. This course is designed to provide the advanced student with specific communication principles and skills necessary for effective public speaking in a variety of contexts.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites/Permissions:

SLMC 101

Program:

Strategic, Legal & Management Communication

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS