

EDUC 219: Schooling for Diverse Populations in American Society

Addresses the philosophy, history and sociology of American education, particularly with regard to the role of diversity in development and operation of the nation's education system. Particular attention will be paid to social, political, and economic forces that have shaped and continue to shape American schools and educational practices. The course is designed to promote a global awareness of how racial, cultural, linguistic, gender, income, and ability diversity affect educational opportunity.

Credits: 3

Program:

Elementary Education

Essential Learning Outcomes: ELO #1: Knowledge of U.S. and Global African Diasporic Developments
ELO #2: Knowledge of Human Cultures and Creative Expression
ELO #4: Intellectual and Practical Skills
ELO #5: Social Responsibility and Knowledge of Political Institutions
ELO #6: Leadership and Applied Learning