

EDUC 430: Methods & Instruc Tech

Emphasizes the design and facilitation of learning environments that apply technology-enhanced instructional strategies to maximize student learning. Candidates will apply current research and instructional design principles to create 21st century learning experiences for students. Upon completion, students should be able to apply technology- enhanced instructional strategies, use a variety of technology resources, and demonstrate appropriate technology skills in educational environments.

Credits: 3

Program:

Elementary Education