

MEEG 207: Intro to Eng. Computations

Introduces programming with computers. Programming concepts include procedural thinking, algorithm development, and techniques for developing solutions to engineering problems using software packages such as MATLAB. Prepares the student to use digital foundational methods to solve engineering problems, as an undergraduate and beyond.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites/Permissions:

PHYS 013, MATH 157

Program:

Mechanical Engineering

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS