SCOM 120: Digital Media Literacy

The primary goal of this class is to help students develop and critically examine the cultural competencies, technologies and social skills necessary for the new media landscape of the 21st century.
Credits: 3
Program:

School of Communications