

CSCI 201: Computer Organization I

This course will cover the fundamentals required to understand the relationship between computer hardware and software. Topics include data representation on computers, computer arithmetic, Boolean algebra and digital logic, and assembly programming in MIPS

Credits: 3

Prerequisites/Permissions:

CSCI 135.

Program:

Computer Science