

THTA 156: Stage Management

Explore the methods and principles used to organize and supervise the performance personnel and production crews from the pre-audition period through the post-production meetings, to develop an understanding of all the responsibilities of an efficient stage manager and how to best satisfy the needs of all the production personnel.

Credits: 3

Program:

Theatre Arts Administration