

IDSD 141: What's Justice to Blacks

Since the inception of the United States of America, Black Americans have been subject to all manner of social injustice. These facts are well known. In this course, we will think about what justice looks like for Black Americans. In doing so, we will consider general questions about social justice, the nature of racism in America, and tools that may be used to combat the effects of racial discrimination.

Credits: 1

Program:

Interdisciplinary Studies

Essential Learning Outcomes: ELO #1: Knowledge of U.S. and Global African Diasporic Developments

ELO #4: Intellectual and Practical Skills

ELO #5: Social Responsibility and Knowledge of Political Institutions