

SOCI 199: Environmental Inequality

This course systematically studies how the intersections of race, class, geography, public policy, and movements affect environmental outcomes. In addition to examining how climate change, declines in ecosystems services, and pollution, among other environmental ills, are inequitably distributed in the United States and around the world. we also examine solutions

Credits: 3

Program:

Sociology

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Essential Learning Outcomes: ELO #3: Knowledge of the Physical and Natural World

ELO #5: Social Responsibility and Knowledge of Political Institutions